GD 2000 - GRAPHIC DESIGN SOPHOMORE PORTFOLIO REVIEW

Credits: 0

Students who have completed 45-60 credit hours are required to participate in a graphic design sophomore portfolio review. Students will present original art and design work from Foundations and their early Graphic Design courses where faculty evaluate mastery of foundational skills and identify strengths and areas of improvement. Student work will demonstrate competency in visual elements and principles of design, drawing, color theory, and three-dimensional fundamentals. Upon successful completion of the Sophomore Portfolio Review, students will transition into their junior-level Graphic Design courses. This course is Pass/Fail.

Prerequisite: Completion of 45+ credits
